

Public Art Caches

Citrus Sky

The Cache that you seek is hidden inside a building full of books. Some say you can see snow here in Winter over a Garden. This brightly colored large-scale mobile hangs gracefully above the main seating area in the Orange County Winter Garden Library. The children's section of this library contains the artist's original, considerably smaller, mock-up of Citrus Sky. The artist, John Robert Wolfe graduated from Rollins college.

When you enter this building look up and you will see oranges in the sky. From this art piece your journey begins. Go to the front desk and ask for the art cache.

Be sure to give the Cache back to the person at the front desk for the next hunter who comes along.
